

Daniel Rutland earned his Masters degree in December 2009. His most recent research specialized in evapotranspiration irrigation controllers for Florida residential landscapes. Dan is currently employed by Royal Consulting Services, Inc. working on a wide variety of Water Resources and Agricultural projects in Florida, which include Storm Water Modeling, Environmental Resources Permitting, Water Use Permitting and Comprehensive Nutrient Management Planning. He is based in Orlando, FL. He can be reached at dcrutland@gmail.com.